

There was a boy – narration

Narrator: There was a boy. A boy who dreamt of something more. He wanted a life. His life. To live.

Boy shouts: “See you tonight!”

Narrator: There was a man. A man with everything to look forward to. The world at his feet. The boy tried to find his place. In a world he didn’t understand. But finding your place isn’t easy, with nobody to show you the way. The way to be the man he wanted to be.

Boy says: “I got it!”

Narrator: The boy took some wrong turns. But that doesn’t always mean you are lost.

Boy knocks on door and shouts: “Dad!”

Narrator: The road was difficult.

Young people shout during the fight. Sounds of a police siren.

Narrator: Challenging and tough. But he kept going.

Social worker knocks on door.

Narrator: There was a boy.

Boy storms out angry.

Laughter over a meal.

Narrator: A boy who became a man. And it was thanks to you.